A Presentation.

GEORGE SIDNEY PORTER HONORED ON HIS 54TH BIRTHDAY.

Just four years ago, at Still's celebrated restaurant, many friends of Mr. George S. Porter gathered to present him with a silver cup, and feast in honor of the occasion. The genial publisher of the Silent Worker probably told himself that that event marked finis for such affairs, so far as he was concerned. Last Sunday the 15th, his 54th anniversary was reached, and he spent the day quietly in his new home that he purchased a year ago, 405 Ardmore Avenue, Trenton, N. J., with Mrs. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cross, who is better known by her maiden name Cornie Porter, and their grand child, Richard Wellington Cross.

Mr. Harry P. Kane and Mr. Alex. L. Pach had journeyed out early in the morning, and after an excellent birthday dinner, an inspection by the visitors of the Printing Department of the New Jersey School, and greeting to Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Kilpatrick, the party returned to Mr. Porter's home for tea, and thus came a summons by telephone that requested Mr Porter's immediate presence at the School. Totally mystified and in genuine innocence, Mr. Porter hurried to the school and was told he was wanted in the chapel at once. It really was his turn to take the Sunday evening chapel exercises, but he had exchanged with another teacher, so concluded the other teacher had been unable to come. Ascending the platform, he was surprised to see his twenty "printer boys" ranged in a long line, and one of them, Frank Hoppaugh, in a splendid speech for a mere school boy, presented Mr. Porter with a beautiful gold watch suitably inscribed, to which Mrs. Porter had added a handsome gold chain.

Mr. Porter's surprise was unfeigned, but he managed to express his thanks in an address that not only delighted all the printer boys, but all the pupils of the school, after which, with his guests, he returned to his home to finish the interupted meal, and all he could say was, "Well, well, well"—I never expected such a testimonial," and his pleasure was as deep as his joy was unexpected.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y.

THE CLOSE OF THE FOURTY-THIRD SEASON.

October, the gay month of our glorious American Autumn, may give us an opportunity to know what some of our countrymen are doing on Lake Erie, Western New York State, to gain physical, mental, and spiritual power, during the summer.

On Sunday night, August 27th, the Summer Assembly Exercises were brought to a close by the annual Sabbath Evening Song Service. The many happy thousands, who for this season have been enjoying the multiplicity of physical, intellectual, and religious entertainments of this unique and wonderful lakeside city, have been rapidly banishing themselves from its environments: "folding their tents and silently stealing away," "bag and baggage, scrip and scripage."

The 43d year of this Chautauqua Encampment has been one of the most popular and successful of any in its notable career. At times upwards of twenty-five thousand transient visitors, and denizens have crowded its habitations.

More than one hundred distinguished men and women in the Literary, Religious, Industrial and Scientific world of lecturers, preachers and speakers, have illuminated these classic groves with great thought and reformatory utterances. "All the world and his wife," has been here. Particularly the wife with her children. An ideal home with rest, joy and peace, in the midst of a "sea of a storm-agitated world."

Bishop Vincent and Hon. Lewis Miller "builded better than they know," when they, in August, 1874, erected their tents and "arks," within this woodland Elysium, as a Sunday School Encampment. Three years later, it budded and blossomed into the ever developing "Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle," that has nearly encircled the whole forty-eight States of the Union.

This last week of entertainments and education was "the missionary week," devoted to the project of "The Church Remaking the World." Well-known speakers, preachers, ladies and gentlemen, from all over the world, have spoken here. Among the most notable were Miss Helen W. Montgomery, Chicago; Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, Princeton Seminary; Dr. Francis, of Los Angeles Baptist Church; Rowland Robbins, Industrial Worker of Chicago; Hon. Robert Bacon, ex-Secretary of United States and Ambassador to France; and many other inspirational orators.

Every week of this few months' convention has been a "Feast of Reason and flow of Soul." "A garden of beauty and joy forever," fit for God and Man]: Never to be forgotten.

"A Study of English for Upper Primary Grades." Book I. By J. W. Jones, Superintendent of the Ohio School for the Deaf.

To his several other excellent contributions of useful and helpful aids for the use of deaf pupils in acquiring English, Superintendent Jones has added still another, which, while dedicated to the deaf children of Ohio and intended specially for their benefit, will prove of service to all deaf children and become a valuable guide to teachers.

It is intended for advanced primary classes, and the author distinctly does not intend it as a formula for teaching language to the deaf, but rather to present language as it daily occurs in connected form, and thus lead to the ability to read understandingly, and in this practical way help in the acquisition of language. The plan it offers is one of exceptional merit, that should be of real help to teachers who desire a clear, facile, and forcible mode of presentation of language to the deaf, with attractive subject matter that will interest them.

In his series of text books, Superintendent Jones is performing a distinct service to the profession over and above his active life as a successful Superintendent of a large institution.

The volume covers some one hundred and sixty pages. It is a fine specimen of the work of the Ohio School printing office. Altogether, it reflects great credit upon the author and upon the school he so ably manages.

THE subjoined excerpt, from the New York Herald of October 23d, has reference to the President of the Board of Directors of the New York (Fanwood) Institution. Dr. Stoddard became connected with the Institution as a Member of the Society in 1862. He became a Director in 1868, and from 1874 to 1888 was Chairman of the Executive Committee. For the past sixteen years he has been President of the Board, succeeding Judge Fancher. Altogether he has served the Institution over fifty-eight years.

Hundreds of graduates and former pupils of Fanwood well know the keen personal interest he has invariably evinced in the welfare of the deaf, and many of them now grown to mature years will read with pleasure and satisfaction that he is still physically fit and mentally vigorous at the age of fourscore years and three.

"The Rev. Dr. Charles Augustus Stoddard, of No. 300 West Seventy-second street, author, Presbyterian clergyman and retired editor, declares his physical condition is better than ever, despite his eighty-three years. A few days ago he strolled down Broadway from the Union Theological Seminary, at 122d St., and wanted to walk the remaining twenty blocks home, but his companion insisted on his getting on a street car. Dr. Stoddard, who is a familiar figure on the west side, says he enjoys the 'West Side Notes' in the Herald. He has been a daily reader of the Herald for more than fifty years."

ONTARIO CANADA.

TORONTO.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Terrell went out on their motorcycle to King, to see Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Slater, on October 14th.

Mr. R. C. Slater, of King, was in the city over the week end of October 15th.

Our Wednesday evening Bible Class has again opened for the coming winter, after being dormant all summer. It meets in Afton Avenue Hall.

Mr. Frank Radbone was calling on friends in Hamilton on October 15th.

At the monthly meeting of the Mission Board on October 16, a long discussion took place regarding the feasibility of opening a Club room somewhere in the city, where our young boys may spend those long winter evenings in a social way, instead of wandering in the streets amid alluring temptations. It was finally decided to give the members time to think on a feasible project to be brought up at a special meeting of the Board, which was held on October 24th. More particulars later.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Terrell went for a spin in their fast motor cycle to Hamilton, October 15th, and gave Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor a friendly call.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roman gave a small party at their home on Algonquin Avenue, on October 17th, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. H Paterson, of Montreal. A nice time was spent by all.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Paterson took a trip over the lake on October 18th, to see the wonders of Niagara Falls. They have since left for their future home in Montreal, calling on friends in Ottawa on the way down.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Mackay returned home on October 14th, from their three weeks' holidays down east. They visited their Alma Mater at Belleville in the meantime.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawson received last week a letter from an officer of the battalion to which their late son belonged, fully describing the heroic stand and death of their gallant warrior. It seems he was hit by a German shell and instantly killed, as his head was completely severed from his body, and then buried in a crater eight feet deep.

Here is another story of our bygone days:

On a certain Saturday afternoon in November, two of the boys decided to go down town, bent on pleasure. Of course it was an open date for any one to go to the city as pleased their fancy, but as it was a bleak, cold and wet afternoon, with a howling north wind blowing almost in proportion to a gale, all the scholars preferred to remain indoors, but those two sturdy urchins decided to take a chance. So off they made for town, returning towards dusk, and here the fun began As they were nearing the school they happened to take the old board sidewalk. Each one had his hands singly tucked in his overcoat pockets and they were facing the bleak November wind. Presently as one nearest to the outside was looking behind, the other fellow accidentally stepped on one end of a loose plank, which caused the opposite end to project skyward just before the other fellow had time to step on it, and before he could see it or pull out his hands he was precipitated forward and fell like a heavy log into the slushy snow by the wayside. For a moment his friend stood dazed and perplexed, wondering if his unfortunate companion had taken on an attack of apoplexy or heart failure. On realizing the true nature of the situation, he burst into a roar of laughter, while his fallen comrade was doing his best to extricate himself from the mire and recover his good composure.

Fearing they might get a "calling" from their supervisor, they decided to make for their dressing room via a sneaking route, and soon the victim of this unforeseen prank had rid himself of his drenching and mud bespattered apparel for a brand new suit. Soon the joke became generally known and caused the poor fellow no end of embarrassment. I'll let your readers find out who the chaps were.

GENERAL.

Mr. R. M. Thomas, of Oakville, took a trolley trip to Hamilton, on October 15th, to see many friends out there.

The Bridgeport Chapter of the Alumni Association of the Deaf, will stage an unique function in the form of a Hallowe'en Festival, on Saturday evening, October 28th, at 8 o'clock, in the rooms of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, 181 State Street, Bridgeport, Ct. The committee with Louis Hagan at the helm, and Theodore Cosette and Mathew Bakos have during the the past few weeks been sending out circulars to the various other association branches calling their attention to the coming event. A large crowd is predicted, and the committee hopes to turn over to chairman of the Hartford Centennial Celebration a neat sum, which will go towards the Centennial Celebration of the Hartford School for the Deaf during the summer of 1917.

Refreshments will be served gratis, and prizes will be awarded to the winners of the various games indulged in. Remember the date, October 28th, at the Y. M H. A., State Street, Admission, 25 cents per person. Here is a chance to renew old acquaintances. Come one! come all!

"Be for Bridgeport," that familiar slogan is being followed as a worthy precept by the deaf-mute population in this flourishing Connecticut city. The deaf-mute population of Bridgeport during the past year has been growing by leaps and bounds. At present we have a silent flock of some forty prosperous, self-supporting citizens. The Remington Arms and Ammunition Company employs some fifteen hands, the Singer Sewing Machine Company, the Ashcroft Manufacturing Company, Bullard Company, and a few large printing corporations, employ deaf-mutes, which demonstrates that deaf-mutes, considering their handicap, are on a level with the hearing in the various trades that they are pursuing.

Silent Martin, the noted deaf-mute middleweight prize-fighter, was in Bridgeport on October 9th, gave a fine exhibition of the manly art before some two thousand fight fans at the Casino. The fight was over the fifteen round route with Zulu Kid, also of New York, as his opponent. Martin lived up to his reputation as being one of the hardest punchers in the game. He mauled his man from one corner of the ring to the other, using the one-two punch exclusively, and at the end of the bout easily carried off all the newspaper decisions. Bridgeport fight fans are strongly in favor of Martin, as he always gives them a run for their money.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolan, of Shelton, Ct., were in Bridgeport, on Saturday evening, and dropped in to see Mr. and Mrs. Youngs and their new born child.

Battling Levinsky's training quarters at Stratford, Ct., are visited nearly every Sunday, by Messrs. Schindler and Goldberg. The Battler is a warm friend of these two, and is always glad to meet any deaf-mutes who happen to be in the vicinity of his training quarters.

Mr. Kirk tendered a Columbus Day party, to a gathering of some ten deaf. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Cosette, Theodore Cosette, Matthew Bakos, Jack Kelly, Mary Calabrasse, and a few others whose name slipped our memory.

Messrs. Weiss and Lapides, of New Haven, were in Bridgeport, on October 9th, and attended the Martin Zulu Kid fight. Ask Lapides what he thinks of Martin's ability to swap over a good punch? The fight must have impressed him some, and our friend has induced his manager, Fred Meniken, to get him a bout in New Haven.

Mr. Taube, of New York, has been successful in securing employment with the Remington Arms and Ammunition Co. He is the fourth New Yorker to be added to our list, the other three being Charlie Olsen, Joseph Zeiss and H. J. Goldberg.

Charlie Olsen, who has always had a liking for travelling ever since he stepped on Connecticut soil, took a trip to Hartford with Mr. and Mrs. Morris, and visited the Hartford School for the Deaf Charlie had lots to relate when he returned.

No doubt this is the first write up for the JOURNAL from the pen of a Bridgeport scribe, and we will try and send items of interest to the JOURNAL whenever space permits.

Quite a number of the Bridgeport deaf took in the address delivered by Mr Albert Ballin, of New York, on "The Issues of the Campaign," at Hartford, Ct., on October 21st. This was in response to Mr. Edward P. Clarke's call for all deaf-mutes in Connecticut to attend. Herbert M. Beebe, candidate of the Socialist party for Governor of Connecticut, was also present.

Seven miles is the greatest recorded height ever reached by a balloon.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE.

The first of a new series of student-managed Sunday School Concerts took place on last Sunday afternoon, being presented by members of the Junior Class. This concert had for its subject: "Faith, Hope and Love," as exemplified in the lives of Cromwell, Milton and Bunyan. It proved to be most successful, conveying a wider appeal than did the concerts under the old order. Following is the program, as rendered:

READING—I COR., XIII Miss Weseen
FAITH—"Oliver Cromwell" ...Mr. Hempel
HOPE—"John Milton" Miss Studt
LOVE—"John Bunyan" Mr. A. Wenger
HYMN—"Rock of Ages" Miss Harper

"Resolved, That Mr. Wilson is better fitted to be President of the United States than Mr. Hughes," was the subject of a hotly contested debate, which comprised part of the program rendered last Friday evening, at the first literary meeting of the Gallaudet Literary Society.

For the period that the debate lasted, Old Chapel Hall temporarily took on the air of an old-fashioned political meeting, with the spectators, of which there were a goodly number, taking an active interest in the proceedings.

The Hughes faction, which was ably represented by Peard, '19, and Wilson, '20, become particularly demonstrative, striding about with outflung and gesticulating arms, and mopping feverish brows in a manner that would have bowled over even the sublime "Teddyisms." In fact, Dohrman, '19, and Whitworth, '20, who led the forlorn struggle for Wilson, were so overawed by this frenzied exhibition that they disremembered about all they had to say, and conceded an easy victory to their opponents.

Other creditable numbers on the program were:

READING—"The Three Brothers," by Mr. Sullivan, '17.

DIALOGUE—"The Love Philter," by Messrs. Townsend and Braddock, '18.

DECLAMATION—"Gray's Elegy," by Mr. Stevens, '20.

Criticism was given by Mr. McInturff, '17.

The judges of the debate were Miss Narcissa Watts, and Messrs. Hladik and Schmidt, all of the Senior Class.

J. Stanley Light, '16, took a short vacation from his pedagogical duties in Maryland School for Colored Deaf last Saturday, in order that he might drop in on his Alma Mater and see her husky gridiron warriers muss up Garlic Field with the representatives of Washington College. "Lux" was a rabid football enthusiast during his college days, so we venture to opine that he thoroughly enjoyed his short visit.

We note with interest the formation by members of the Senior Class of a mustache club. The 17's, feeling that they must have some outward mark of their dignified position at the hub of the college universe, have bound themselves by various and sundry oaths not to defile their sacred upper lips with razors, for the next fortnight. The results apparent at the end of that period should provide plenty of diversion for those not in the compact.

The long-looked for insignia of Rathood have now arrived and the Rats are wearing 'em. They are caps, of a dazzling green color, with big, beautiful white buttons on top. Inasmuch as they are graded in size, according to the size of intellect possessed by their wearers, some of the Rats now have an extremely passe appearance, while others look quite the opposite. Dobson, for instance, is now strutting around in a No 5 cap, which because of its small size and retiring disposition, frequently resents such conspicuousness by flying off the wearer's head, and with the aid of some vagrant breeze, skipping merrily across the campus. With this excessive track work, Dobson should develop into a first-class sprinter.

Among this year's Normals, there is none more popular and more generally liked than John K. Cloud, of St. Louis, a son of the Rev. J. H. Cloud, '89, whose meritorious work among the Deaf, both as an educator and minister, is too well known to require comment here. Besides being a genial, companionable chap, Cloud seems to be a real "Find" as a foot ball player. He is at present holding down a regular berth at Right Tackle on the 'Varsity, and putting up a whirlwind game.

FOOT-BALL

Gallaudet, 43	Washington, 0

Outclassed, outrun, outplayed, in every department of the gridiron game, Washington College was able to offer but a weak resistance to Gallaudet, in the Buff and Blue's first home game of the season, staged on Garlic Field last Saturday afternoon. In fact, the Chestertown representatives were able to afford the greatly strengthened and more formidable Gallaudet eleven only fair practice. At no time during the whole contest did they have anything even remotely resembling a dangerous offensive. As for their defense—look at the score!

In this game, Gallaudet presented a far more imposing appearance than she had a week before, she succumbed to Virginia Military Institute. The whole team seemed curiously altered. There was more confidence in the backfield. There was more staunchness in the line. Moreover, the team had what it has needed most, the old time Gallaudet brand of fighting spirit.

Things began to look gloomy for Gallaudet at the outset, a fluky end run and a blocked punt giving the Chestertown Eleven the ball on the Buff and Blue's ten-yard line. That was as near as they ever got to Gallaudet's goal, however, for the Kendall Greeners' line held like a wall of steel and the ball changed hands. Then Gallaudet began a steady march down the field, that continued without intermission for the rest of the game. The ease with which the Buff and Blue scored, and the evident helplessness of her opponents, robbed the game of thrills. Gallaudet resorted to straight foot-ball most of the time, but occasionally used a forward heave or criss-cross play to advantage.

The work of Capt. Marshall and Cloud featured Gallaudet's play. Marshall put up his usual heady game at quarterback, securing four of the team's touchdowns, and kicking a goal from placement. Cloud, who had been putting up a brilliant game at tackle, was moved to the back field and seemed to fit in to perfection. A large part of the victory is due to his splendid work at fullback.

He Is Sometimes Peeved.

This is the story of an alleged cruel brother and a deaf-mute mother. It was told by a Children's Society investigator in the Children's Court on Monday, before Judge Hoyt.

Ethel Peterson, 14; Amy, 12; Walter, 7, and Harold, 4, of 124 East 123th Street, have no father and depend upon their older brother Edward, 25, for support. They testified he treated them harshly and did not give them enough to eat

Edward is not cruel, it was stated, but he has his troubles supporting the family on $18 per week. He does not shirk his duty, but he gets "peeved" occasionally, that's all.

The children were left in the custody of their deaf but loving mother, after an uncle had promised to take up his residence with the Petersons and see that Edward's irritability is spent elsewhere. —Harlem Home News.

IMPOSTOR BUREAU.

The longer I serve as the head of the Impostor Bureau the more amazed I am at the wide variety of brilliant ideas devised by deaf workers. Some of their methods are flashes of genius. To such men as Howson, Cloud, Waring, Mueller, Matheis and a score of others, I must take off my hat: they seem to get results every time.

Remember Melville John Matheis, our Bureau's brilliant representative before the American Bar Association when it met in his home town, Salt Lake City, Utah, Last year? Want to hear the latest of this versatile young hurricane?

En route to New York, on Bar Association business for one thing, but let him tell it:

"En route East I carried several impostor's cards, and whenever I made friends on the Pullmans I passed the cards around to the travelers, and before they had a chance to sympathize with me (a poor beggar) and hand me a little loose change, I used my speed and turned the cards over. Right here they opened their eyes and read those ox-blood stickers pasted on the back of the cards. After that they asked me all kinds of questions about the deaf and the difference between the deaf and the fakirs.

"Homeward bound from Washing I did, the same stunt, and am forwarding you the addresses of two big men who are ready to assist us to a great extent. The one from Arkansas is a full-fledged trouble-maker for criminals, and he wants full data about the impostors, then will press a bill at the next legislature. Hurry up, and look in your old cracker box and see if Arkansas has done anything so far; if not, write this guy. The other one speaks for itself and you can do the rest."

"The other one," as he calls him, is the head of the Newspaper Enterprise Association, who will try to "give us a wide play in the United States." Accordingly I am forwarding some strong fact and figures, pictures of begging cards, and a lot of other things from which the Press Association should be able to make out a convincing story. Even should the syndicate article reach only a half million readers (a conservative estimate) it will be several thousand dollars worth of publicity secured free of charge.

Young Matheis is to be congratulated on his bravery and initiative. While it might seem an embarrassing trick to play on the rich and powerful, results are beyond compute. So long as the N. A. D. has men like Matheis, Howson, Waring and Mueller, to give you the labor of their great minds for nothing, why begrudge a bare fifty cents a year to pay their postage bills. Remember, not one of us gets a cent in graft or salary.

An Impostor called on Dr. Reynolds of Pasadena, Cal. "Having lately lost my speech and hearing I desire funds to learn a Mute's education," read his cards. Dr Reynolds felt very sorry for the poor "deaf-mute." He called in Dr. McCoy, a noted surgeon. Dr. McCoy decided to help the poor "mute" recover his lost senses, so prepared for an operation. The "deaf" man waited until the knives were ready and he had a whiff of ammonia from a cone, then with a yell of "Murder!!" that brought the police, he suddenly found he could hear and talk as well as any one.

The police judge ordered him to leave town.

Isn't it wonderful what miracles modern surgery can accomplish?

Dr. Reynolds is a friend of a deaf couple, who doubtlessly led him to believe that the deaf do not beg. Every influential friend we make counts.

Nebraska Chief P. E. Seeley writes from Omaha: "Your press circulars went all over the State and apparently struck home. Though parties do not remember nor file away names, they remember the address, and when a case comes up simply write 'the deaf school.' For example, see accompanying letter from John J. Unbehaun of the Commercial Club of Deshler, asking me regarding Joe Thompson, claiming to be deaf and dumb, who applied to the club for a permit to solicit money in that town."

When a chamber of commerce will deign to rely upon the say-so a deaf man it would seem we deaf were really becoming a power in the commonwealth.

I can not give more than a fraction of the many interesting evidences of the worth-while work your Impostor Bureau headquarters is constantly receving. Editor Hodgson's space is limited. But let me tell you in all seriousness, gentle reader, if you could look over my mail for only one week you would no longer be one of the skeptics who inquire "What is the N. A. D. doing to help me?"

For every little achievement makes for perfection, and that perfection means more work, more money, more prestige for you—for you and me, and every deaf man and woman in America. If you are not a Nad, you are not doing your wee share to help the cause that means your advancement; if you are not a Nad, you are keeping money out of your own pocket.

All you need do to become a member is send one dollar to the treasurer, Prof. Harley Drake, Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C. If you don't you are "penny-wise and dollar-foolish." Why be penny-wise?

AUTOMOBILE CITY.

The Henry Ford School has about one hundred and fifty Instructors in many compulsory courses, comprising industry, efficiency, thrift, economy, industrial, domestic and community relations. The English branch of the main school has courses in arithmetic and writing English.

This is not an optional course, as it as it is necessary for the success of the business. But the workmen who decline to use it, are at liberty to decline the high wages and employment. Etiquette, table manners and hygiene, are also taught. The objects aimed at are to teach the employes how to increase their earning powers, to use their incomes the best way, to improve tastes, family and community relations. Also, to put men into right ideas of their work and employer. To fit and encourage foreigners to become citizens, and to assist men to get a new start in life, by giving them a fine chance to mend their ways. These advanced ideas are not Utopian, but have produced great educational reforms and enlarged capacity for personal domestic happiness and prosperity. Ford seems to have caught the Christian ethical method in cultural and vocational training. He follows up his theories and methods with some novel financial plans, for the best environment possible for his employes, by profit-sharing high wages.

Mr. Ford aims to give comfortable homes to all in his employ, as the basis of good work, good will, and greater human happiness. The true economic industrial and Christian conditions. They are first taught to aspire to become Americans, to drop all former dislikes and hatreds of the other nationalities around them. The cure of crime is well paid. Work is the Ford idea in practice. To educate men, so as to evolve from unskilled "ignorant foreign labor," efficient, industrious and sober men. Henry Ford himself is a preeminent example of what true ambition for high purposes can do to advance a man from lack of early advantages to industrial wealth, and power to uplift humanity. Less than a score of years ago, Henry Ford, like some other successful men, was at the bottom of fortune.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column, should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL Station M, New York.
A few words of information in a letter or on a postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

In spite of the inclement weather last Thursday, there was an excellent attendance of members of the Woman's Parish Aid Society and the Men's Club of St. Ann's Church. Plans were discussed for the religious and social work at the Church during the coming season.

Miss Eleanor Sherman was appointed chairman of the Red Cross Committee, which will meet in the Guild House and prepare bandages and surgical dressings to go to the hospitals along the battle front in Europe. Everybody desiring to lend a helping hand is invited to join in the good work.

Mr. Albert V. Ballin is Chairman of the Committee arranging a pocket billard tournament. To this is to be added a chess and checker tournament for the championship of New York. A bronze trophy will be offered to be competed for annually. The Club winning it three times in succession to hold it in perpetuity.

Basket-ball will be revived, and the church will have a strong team for the Inter-Church League games. A new cement floor is now being laid in the Guild Room, to take the place of the old wooden flooring. It will be a much-needed improvement.

Rev. Dr. Chamberlain's appeal to the members of the Church for contribution to the Syrian-Armenian Relief Fund has met with instant and generous response. The subscription lists for the annual Thanksgiving and Christmas Fund is now being circulated and finds the people ready with donations to this much appreciated charitable enterprise. It has been the custom of the Church to provide for the poor and friendless among the deaf, on these two holidays particularly, and at all other times also. Besides the baskets that go to the homes of poor families, a very excellent dinner is arranged for those who lack the facilities for preparing it at home. Mr. McMann is Chairman, to whom contributions should be sent.

On Saturday evening, October 21st, about one hundred members and friends of Brooklyn Division, 23, N. F. S. D., assembled at Horton Hall on East 125th Street, to view Dr. Thomas Francis Fox's reading of "Richelieu." All who are acquainted with Dr. Fox well know that this is one of his best Dramatic Readings, and to say that those who attended were pleased, would be putting it mildly.

For two and one half hours after his introduction by Pres. Powell of Brooklyn Division, Dr. Fox held the attention of all, and upon his conclusion of the final act, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered him for his kind efforts in making the evening a very pleasant one for those who attended.

Though the time was short for the arrangement, the committee, which is headed by Jacob Keiber, Jr., felt well pleased with their efforts, and wishes it to be understood that on every third Saturday of the month there will always be something doing in the line of "Social Amusement" at Horton Hall, 110 East 125th Street. On December 16th, the committee announces they will hold a "Country Store," and assure those that attend one of those grand old times that are always noticeable at all our affairs.

Saturday Evening, October 21st, was a happy one for the younger deaf of the Metropolis at the Park and Tilford Building, 126th Street and Lenox Avenue, where the Clark Deaf-Mutes ran their Surprise Carnival.

The crowd numbered about two hundred people, and a jollier crowd could not have been found. A horde of the pupils from the Lexington School were down and vastly helped enliven things. As the farmer said, "Wal, it wuz a humdinger."

Games were keenly contested for and were very close all around. Some of the older deaf, who seldom take part in the games, could not refrain from joining the others. Tickets when presented at the door called for paper carnival hat, and they were a novelty to the deaf. The committee had their hands full trying to get the crowd in order, so as not to cause confusion while games were in progress.

All in all it was a most enjoyable evening, and another thing that lent color to the evening was some light music furnished by a friend of one of the committee. They played so good that hearing people kept as near to them as possible, so they could not miss the opportunity to dance. This music in reality was furnished by a glee club, known as Whol and Haberstroh's Glee Club. These two hearing boys are well known among the deaf and can be found at almost any function or affair of the deaf.

Prizes were handsome and numerous.

Lucky ticket holders were: Mr. Mennan, H. J. Goldberg, Mrs. Gilbert, Miss Lefi, Mr. Glassner.

The kimono was won by A. L. Pfandler.

Cigars won by Mr. Simonson.

Needle and Thread, won by Miss Stoloff.

Candle Race, won by Mr. Petoio.

Hammer and Nail Race, won by Mrs. Herring.

Collar and Tie Race, won by Mr. Steinhauser.

Peanut Race was won by Mr. Ehret.

Owing to the misunderstading on the part of the caterer, there was a slight confusion in regards to refreshments. We did not get exactly what we wanted, but we've met "Old man Experience" now.

Committee: F. J. Haberstroh (Chairman); F. Koehler, P. Hoenig, L Fischer, A. H Enger, J. Sweyd and Leo. Breslauer.

ALPHABET ATHLETIC CLUB NOTES.

The Boys Club once more has opened its doors to the young men who enjoy its privileges. The new building is in the course of construction. It will be bigger than the present one, and, when completed, both buildings will be joined together to form one big and spacious structure.

Jack Ebin, Sam Glassner and Louis Brooks, report a corking time this summer, which they spent in their snug camp in Midland Beach, S I. They expect to camp at the same place next season.

David Wax has bought a new side car to attach to his motorcycle. We have not yet found out who she is.

Our crack runner, Henry Richardson, is all smiles as he has completed a successful season on the cinder path. One more gold medal added to his many trophies and a "Gillette" safety razor, which he won at the "Frat" pic-nic. Henry talks much about the razor and he clear forgets all about the medal.

Since the Lovitch brothers called at the club rooms one night some years ago, and explained all the ninety-nine reasons why to join the "Frats," there has been a steady stream to Brooklyn. Altogether, it is calculated that thirty ex-Alphabetians have ridden the goat at the latter's premises. The latest to make up their minds are Hy. Dramis and Sam Glassner.

A surprise party was given in honor of John J. O'Brien, by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary O'Brien, on October 7th.

Mrs. M. O'Brien was assisted by her four pretty daughters. Her only son was also present.

Mr. John J. O'Brien had an enjoyable time with the company that had assemled in his honor.

Music was furnished by his nieces who took turns on the piano.

Supper was served, and dancing was kept up till one o'clock.

Those present were: Mrs. A. M O'Brien (mother), Mrs. and Mr. T. A. O'Brien (brother and sister-in-law), Mrs. M. A. O'Brien (another sister-in-law, and her five children, Misses Alice, Annie, Florence, Kabe and Tony M. O'Brien), and the children of John J. O'Brien, Michael, Joseph, Robert and Anthony. Besides the above, there were also present M. Wielia, Miss Agnes Kane and Mrs. M. Egan.

On Sunday morning, October 15th, at St Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes, the infant of Mr. and Mrs. William Aufort was baptized by Rev. Dr. John Chamberlain. Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson and Miss Aufort were sponsors. The baby was named Dorothy Lily, and in her honor a reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H Aufort, Sr., on Davidson Avenue, Bronx. Besides the parents and grandparents and a dozen hearing friends, there were present Mr. and Mrs. Wren, Mr. and Mrs Ehnes, Miss Emily Zwink, Mr. Charles Wiemuth, and Miss Anna Klaus. There were games, dancing, refreshments, and everything to make the evening pleasant and enjoyable. Incidentally Dorothy Lily was showered with lovely presents.

Marching proudly up Broadway, the 22d Regiment reached its Armory, at 167th Street and Fort Washington Avenue, on Saturday last, after being on the Mexican border for over three months. Among the young soldiers boys, looking gallant and bronzed, was Kenneth Meinken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Meinken. Like all the rest who had mothers and sisters, Kenneth was hugged and kissed and tears of joy were shed at his safe return.

The committee of the Hallow Eve Festival, to be held at St. Ann's Church on October 28th, has been selected as follows: Miss Alice E. Judge will manage the stage play; Mr. Wm. Aufort will attend to the games and keep the record of prize winners; Misses Nettie Miller, Anna Klaus and May Ruhl will look after the dainty refreshments. Twenty-five cents includes admission, participation in the fun and games, and the refreshments.

Mrs. Isabella S. Fosmire was tendered a birthday dinner by her brother, Mr. Thomas C. VanVarick, at the residence of Mr. L. Strvuen, 96 Vermont Avenue, Vailsburg, N. J., October 22d. A birthday cake was on the table, with a large star in the centre. Those present: Mr. VanVarick, Mr. and Mrs. McEnroe, Mrs. I. S. Fosmire, Mrs. L Strvuen, and several others.

The father of Moses Loew, lawyer, author and philosopher, will reach his 70th milestone next June. It has long been his custom to take a dip in the Atlantic Ocean every day, summer and winter. During August of the present year, he rescued four people from drowning in one day. He recently received a medal from the U. S. Goverment Life Saving Service, in recognition of rescues made on many occasions.

Mr. Henry Christgau, beloved brother of Miss Katherine Christgau, passed away, after a short illness, on Sunday morning, October 15th. Interment in Lutheran Cemetery. The members of Lutheran Guild sent a floral piece and sympathy to Miss Christgau.

Mesdames Felix A. Simonson and Osmond Loew were seen at a matinee of the Dolly Sisters recently. These sister are twins, and are alike in form, feature, carriage and tone of voice. Which is which?

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Pfeiffer are enjoying the lovely days and beautiful foliage of Autumn at Lake George. They revel in the simple life, with an occasional trip by auto; the most recent being a whirl of seventy miles in the Adirondacks.

The stork left a baby-girl with Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Fish, of Newark, N. J., on October 3d. The proud parents have our congratulations.

Miss Barbara Spoehrer is in New York and will probably remain all winter.

Preparedness

A lecture on Preparedness and a series of songs and recitations in which not a word was spoken, comprised the program of the Los Angeles members of the National Association of the Deaf, who met last night in Grant Hall, 730 South Avenue.

The sign language was the mode of conversation. J. Frederick Meagher, director of the National Association of the Deaf, of Vancouver, Wash., was the principal "speaker" of the evening, and "spoke" on Preparedness for Deaf Persons. Mr. Meagher pointed out that there are 65,000 deaf persons in the United States. Ninety-nine per cent of this number are self-supporting. Illiteracy does not exist among them. He dwelt at length regarding legislation discriminating against the deaf that has been enacted in certain states. "These laws exist," declared Mr. Meagher, "solely because of lack of organization among the deaf." He urged the affiliation of all deaf persons with the national organization to combat such legislation.

HONOR GIVEN A DEAF MAN

Abel's Photographic Weekly, has a very flattering notice of a photograph made by Photographer F. P. Fawkner, of Cairo

It is in regard to a photograph made and sent by Mr Fawkner to the Photographers' Association of America, which met in convention at Cleveland, O., recently. This picture, entitled "The Purveyors," was entered in the Interpretative Class. The article, in part, is as follows:

"There was one picture that was an interpretation of the title, which was Religion, Art, Sustenance. It was a photograph of a street, and Religion was represented by a church in the center of the background, Art was depicted in a statue of the wrestlers at the entrance of a park, and Sustenance by the push-cart of the banana peddler in the foreground. This was one of the best as regards the interpretations of a title.

The above was written by Mr. G Hammer Croughton, president of the board of judges at the convention, who is one of the foremonst art critics in the country. This picture is now on display in the entrance show case of the Fawkner Studio, 807 Washington Avenue, and should be recognized by all citizens.—Cairo (Ill.) Herald, Oct. 8.

October 21, 1916—A correspondent sent us an account of the Green vs. Green divorce case trial, which came off in Toledo last week. It would take up too much space to give the letter in full, so the substance will do. The couple have been married tweny-two years and have two children, the oldest, twenty years and the other five. Mr Green is a graduate of the Philadelphia School, formerly was a printer, and worked at his trade with the Weslebote of this city, 1889–1890. He is now a garment cleaner and presser in Toledo. Mrs. Green is a graduate of the school here. She brought the suit against her husband for cruelty. Two days were occupied in the trial, each side having six witnesses, the eldest son siding with his father. The whole trouble between the parties seems to have come from listening to gossip brought Mrs. Green by outside parties.

Judge Johnson refused them a divorce, but granted a separation, the defendant to pay the court costs except fifteen dollars, which Mrs. Green is to pay. The younger son is placed in the care of his mother, and the defendant is to contribute $2.50 a week for its support, and also pay Mrs. Green's lawyer's fees in this case. The child may not be taken out of Lucas County without the judge's permission, and he will not grant it without first consulting Mr. Green. Mrs. Green has a good position in Cleveland, and is anxious to go there, and Mr. Green may give his consent, because of the trouble some of the Toledo deaf have given them. Mr Green owns property in West Toledo, to which Mrs. Green is to have no claim, in case Mrs Green is given permission to go to Cleveland. Mr. Green, after the European War is over, can take his child to Europe, where he has nieces and nephews in Berlin, Germany. Those who were in the court room at the time, thought the decision of the judge a very wise, good and just one.

The first O. S. S. D. foot ball team journeyed over to Granville, Saturday last, and played the Doan Academy team. We will let the State Journal speak of the game. That is some salve for the defeat administered to our boys the week previous by the Dayton team.

GRANVILLE, Oct. 14.—Completely bewildering Doan's Academy on the offense and playing one of the strongest defensive games seen here in years, the D. and D. team from Columbus had no trouble in defeating Doan here this afternoon by the score of 44 to 0. Seinensohn of the visitors was by far the best man on the field. The hard play by the visitors soon wore down the home team, but it rallied in the third quarter and held the Columbus team scoreless.

CINCINNATI CULLINGS

Mr. and Mrs. George Tobin entertained them at their home, Friday evening, the 29th ult., before leaving for Akron.

Miss Oleta Brothers, of Maysville, Ky, is boarding at Mr. and Mrs. Steele's. She is attending the Cincinnati Oral School, under the principalship of Miss Osborn She expects her mother and family to move here in the near future. She is a very bright girl and is always trying to learn to use the sign-language, when she meets with new acquaintances among the deaf here.

William Bluet and Fred Goetz were in Indianapolis Ind, one Sunday, in August, on an excursion, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Querengasser.

After attending the Ohio Reunion, Miss Sarah Goldberg stopped at Dayton, where she spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. R Bice They invited some deaf friends for a party in her honor, and she was delighted with it. She returned home Sunday, the 10th ult.

John Barry Taylor, of Middletown, witnessed the Columbus (Ohio) Deaf-Mute School and St Mary's College football game, Saturday, the 7th inst., at Dayton. After the game he returned here to attend the N. F. S. D. meeting. He reported to us that the boys at Columbus put up a good game, although they lost to St. Mary's.

Many deaf from surrounding towns are expected to attend the Masquerade Ball and Social, Saturday evening, the 28th inst, to be given by the Cincinnati Division, No. 10, N. F. S. D. A large crowd is expected, if the weather is favorable.

Mrs. Jos. Fusher was called to Dayton, Saturday, the 16th ult., on account of the illness of her sister, Mrs. R. Bice.

George Burrowcliff pleasantly spent Sunday, the 24th ult., with an admiring friend, near West Milton.

Joseph Miller journeyed to Lawrenceburg, Ind., the 8th inst., to visit his chum, Aloysius Nees. After dinner, the brother-in-law of Aloysius took them on an auto ride to Aurora and had an enjoyable time.

George Rawlston, who came from Tennessee last fall, has obtained employment as tracer, at the Lodge-Shipley Machine Tool Co. He works with Julius Salzer.

Harry Katzenstein and Miss Anna Christoffel were united in marriage, Thursday morning, the 28th ult., by Rev. Father Richard, in St. John's Church, assisted by Rev. Father Waldhaus.

There was a large attendance, and most of whom were relatives to the bride and groom. They were the happy recipients of many useful, beautiful presents, from their relatives and friends. Joseph Miller acted as best man, and Miss Mary Melocher bride's maid. The bride and groom are going housekeeping on Bremen Street. We wish them happiness and long life.

A crowd of merrymakers gave a surprise party Friday night, the 6th inst, at Mr. and Mrs. Albert Steele's residence, in honor of Roy Ervin's birthday. Roy had gone to the corner drugstore, near the Steele residence, for a talk with the owner and returned about 8 o'clock, not suspecting a party in the house. When Roy entered the darkened parlor and had turned on the light, he was surprised and surrounded by the guests. The evening was spent in games and pleasant chatting. Roy was the happy recipient of a fine travelling bag from the guests. Dainty refreshments were served and enjoyed at the luncheon. The party broke up about half past eleven o'clock, and all were tired but happy. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Bert. Wortman and her daughter, Eleyn, Mrs. Tila Welman, Miss Nellie and Magaret Gillespie, Helen Paschael, Kathryn Love, Anna Sarah Phillips, Ethel Pollard, Anna Barth, Helen Bliss, Oletta Brothers, Messrs. Irven Burton, Robert Cottur, Edgar Hay, Charles Fry, Albert Bender, George Rawlston, Harry O'Donnell, Joseph Miller, Louis Bacheberle, Wiltshire Oxley, John Bov, Arthur Weimer and Wylie Ross. "O."

Miss Annabelle Kent bade goodbye for a while this week to the land of New Jersey skeeters, and alighted in this garden spot of Ohio, Tuesday, being a guest of mine host of the Columbus Hotel. The call of her presence here is the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, of which she is assistant Executive Secretary of three educational institutions located at Albuquerque, N. M.; El Paso, Texas; and Tuscon, Arizona. In these schools children are cared for and being educated. A reporter of the Daily Citizen accosted her during one of the meetings and inquired how she managed to carry on her work, seeing she could not hear. Her answer was brief and to the point, "I do all my work very well by writing." The reporter wished to have her picture to print in the paper, but to this she cordially declined.

The Columbus Ladies' Aid Society held a meeting Thursday evening at the school, and arranged for an entertainment to be given December 2d, afternoon and evening, at the school. Mrs. Frank Brown, of near Niles, Ohio, was admitted as an honorary member. Miss Annabelle Kent, of Orange, N. J., and Miss Bessie McGregor, of Grove City, were visitors.

Miss Nellie Lindsay was here Tuesday on her way to Washington, to become a student of Gallaudet College, having received a telegram from President Hall to report She was late in making application, and when the term opened, owing to the crowded conditions there, could not be accepted. Since then, accommodations for her were obtained, so the call. Miss Lindsay while a pupil here was ambitious for a good education, and we opine this trait will be with her while in college, and that she will be as diligent in her studies there as here.

The younger son of Mr. Joseph Neutzlin, Theodore, had to part with one of the fingers of his left hand Monday. Last June the member became infected and it troubled him through the summer. An examination lately showed that the bone of the palm was diseased, and the only remedy was amputation of the member.

Mrs. Margaret J. Syle, of Philadelphia, who is now in St. Louis attending the Convention of the Episcoal Church, will be here about the 26th, on a visit to the School and Home for Aged Deaf, and during her stay may make an address on Missionary Work among the Deaf.

PITTSBURGH.

It is a cold day when the deaf don't get in with the leaders in a contest where brains count, for they usually land something when they start square and fair. Mr. Walter Zelch is the latest proof of this in our bailiwick. He took a check for five dollars recently in the "Farmer's Wife" contest—some sort of auto puzzle game—he getting forty-nine correct titles out of a possible fifty. He has received many congratulations for his cleverness.

Mr. J. Sommer and his friend, Mr. McCord, of Lancaster, passed through Pittsburgh on their motorcycle a short time ago, stopping at the school at Edgewood for a brief rest. They had a vacation of a couple of weeks and took this means of enjoying it. They were undecided where they would go from this city, but probably would return to Lancaster, by way of Buffalo.

Messrs. Joshua and George Finley and their sister, Miss Carrie, are now located at 618 Center St., Wilkinsburg, and rather like the place. The gentlemen are working as carpenters at Unity, some distance out from Wilkinsburg, and enjoyed their trips to and from their work daily. Wilkinsburg seems to be attracting a good many of the deaf, and there are now quite a number in that locality.

The regular monthly meeting of the P. S. A. D. Branch was held at Washington Hall, October 14th It was donation day for the Home at Doylestown, and Mr. Bardes, who was leading the charge, made an eloquent appeal to the pockets of those present and soon thereafter the dollars began to warn his palms. During the contribution brief talks and appeals were made by various members, and the collectors were much encouraged by the results. After all had had a chance to separate themselves and cash, or record a pledge, ice cream and cake were served to all.

Mr. John Hostnich, who left the Edgewood School a few years ago, and now located at Detroit, was at the meeting, enjoying the sociability of old comrades. He reported steady and agreeable employment in Detroit, and showed his interest in public affairs by subscribing to the JOURNAL. More ought to follow his example.

Mr. C. S. Sawhill reports a wonderful mountain trip from Altoona to Johnstown, with Mr. John E Rosensteel in his Ford, after lecture and Sabbath services in the former place. After having partaken of a substantial dinner with the genial Mr. and Mrs. Richman, they left the mountain, city at 12:35 P.M. over the famous William Penn highway. Climbing and skirting the mountains, they were treated to views of magnificent scenery. The noted Horse Shoe Curve was plainly visible four miles away. Then gliding from the altitudes, they passed through Loretto, made famous as the birthplace of Mr. Charles M. Schwab, an old friend of Collins S They had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Schwab's father, who still resides there. They arrived at Johnstown at 3:15 P.M., without mishap, after a journey long to be remembered. Mr. Sawhill held another service at St. Mark's Church, Johnstown, that evening, so that his trip to the mountains was full of real pleasure and genuine service.

According to previous announcement, Miss M. M Toomey gave her initial lecture on language and colloquial phrases, often obscure to the deaf, at the Social League rooms, October 19th. A course of lecturers and talks, to the same purpose, has been arranged by Miss Toomey, and this first "Class Night," was signalized by a good attendance and much enthusiasm, in spite of a very stormy night, when ordinarily few venture forth. We were not among the fortunates, for we were marooned in a rain soaked Braddock station, waiting for a very belated train, bearing our "frau" from the wilds of Maryland. However, one who was there and competent to judge, kindly sent us a reliable report. In a word, it was "success." To begin, Miss Toomey wasted no time on oratorical flourish, but buckled right down to business at the word "go." During her lecture, she brought out the meaning of a number of phrases little understood by the deaf at large. Following her elucidations, a half hour was devoted to questions from the audience, which she clearly explained. Much entertainment was occasioned at times by the sentences taken up and the wild guesses at their meaning. All united in expressions of appreciation of Miss Toomey's efforts and it prognosticates much benefit to those who follow her talks attentively. We predict no lack of interest in future steps. It is really something worth while.

To-night, October 21st, friends are giving our friend, Timothy Gorman, a surprise and other nice things. We hope to have a full report of the doings in our next.

Mr. Read's Sabbath class at the Presbyterian Church, Wilkinsburg, is growing. Last Sunday there were twelve in attendance, and more are confidently expected in the future. Let the good work go on.

Miss Edna Boyd took time to call on Mrs. Teegarden recently, and they laid their heads together on the Sophia Fowler Gallaudet collections, in an effort to bring it to a conclusion as far as Pittsburgh is concerned, at least for the present. Miss Boyd is ever ready to work in a good cause, so the matter will come out in proper lights at the right time.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S Reider, 1588 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

About a half hundred deaf joined the combination excursion to Mauch Chunk and the Switchback on Saturday, October 21st. The round trip cost $2 50, and, although the number of excursionists was small, a snug profit was made by it The weather was fortunately propitious, thus making the trip more enjoyable. The excursion was given under the auspices of the Local 1918 Convention Committee of Philadelphia Division, No 30, N. F. S. D., and the proceeds will be for the Convention Fund.

Mr. David Stephenson, of Shamokin, Pa., and Miss Grace Sutor were married on Wednesday, 18th of October, and are now spending their honeymoon in this city They may remain here, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Richards, until Friday, 27th inst. Congratulations.

Messrs. Robert Young, of Sellersville, and Oscar Weidner, of Birdsboro, were the only non-resident Frats who joined the excursion to Mauch Chunk on Saturday, 21st inst.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Metzel, about eight deaf were enabled to attend the Philadelphia Police Athletic Carnival, at the National League Base Ball Park, on Saturday afternoon, October 21st Messrs. Metzel, Underwood, Blanckensee and Reider were among them. We did not obtain the names of the others.

Washington Houston received a package of figs from his friend, Mr. James B George, of Portland, Oregon. The figs were picked from a tree in Mr. George's own garden, and consequently Mr. Houston is much pleased and grateful to his friend for his remembrance of him.

All Souls' Guild held its Fall quarterly business meeting on Tuesday evening, October 17th. The Warden presided in the absence of the Pastor. The reports that were read showed continual progress, and, on the whole, were encouraging. A number of needed improvements will be made to the Parish House as soon as possible, and as funds become available, others will follow. Mr. Belfield continues to take a personal interest in the buildings, as is shown by his frequent visits to the church for inspection.

Recitations formed the chief exercise at the meeting of the Beth Israel Association for the Deaf, on Sunday afternoon, 22d inst Mr. Louis Lovett is to lecture before the Association next Sunday, October 29th.

Mr. Andrew Leitch is reported seriously ill with pneumonia, although the danger mark has probably been passed.

Mr Arthur J. Godwin, Instructor in Printing at the Mt. Airy School, lectured before the Clere Literary Association, on Thursday evening, October 19th. He gave an interesting talk on the work of the deaf as printers, and we understood him to say that he has in preparation an address to the public on this subject. Mr. Godwin has proved a loyal friend of the deaf, and takes a deep interest in their success, both in and after leaving school.

A hallowe'en entertainment will be given at All Soul's Parish House by the Ladies' Pastoral Aid Society next Saturday evening, October 28th. Mrs G. T. Sanders will be director Prizes will be given for the most comical costumes. Admission will be fifteen cents. An enjoyable evening is anticipated.

The Council of Jewish Women invited the members of the Beth Israel Association for the Deaf to see a moving picture exhibition at the Palace Theatre, 12th and Market Streets, on Thursday, 19th inst. They enjoyed the treat immensely. The Daughters of the Beth Israel Temple also invited the members of the Association to a reception, in honor of Mr. Max Apt, President of the congregation, recently.

The Congregation of All Souls' Church for the Deaf contributed $20.10 to the fund that is being raised for the American sufferers in Philadelphia in response to the appeal of President Wilson.

FANWOOD.

Every department is in full motion!

We are still under the ban of the Board of Health for safety's sake.

The Principal attended the Convocation of the University of the State of New York, at Albany, on the 19th and 20th of October.

Mendal Berman, former Captain of the Fanwood Senior Basket-ball team and member of the Class of 1916, visited his former manager, Mr. E. G. Margraf, at the Institution Wednesday night. Our former star is looking as fine as ever and still wears his old time basket-ball enthusiasm.

Both divisions of the printing office have been considerably increased by a number of new apprentices. This year's class record equals that of any in the past.

Of late it is quite observant of the large increase in mail we are receiving. Parcel post has solved the problem of keeping the pupils well supplied with gifts that happily meet the demand of the sweet tooth.

For the correct understanding of military matters—tactical, ethical and practical—Principal Currier has established an Officers' School, for the advancement of the Cadet officers. Major Van Tassell will have command and give a thorough military course of instruction, comprising the various drill evolutions and duties of a private and officer. All cadet officers are required to receive the course of instruction and to become members of a special Company in which they will begin as privates and step by step master the different positions in rank. The instruction will be in accordance to the United States military code. Members are to be present every Sunday afternoon, between the hours of two and three o'clock.

The Sunday afternoon dress parade of the battalion was the first of the year, and witnessed by a large throng of spectators. The Principal watched the cadets from a distance. Major Van Tassell was reviewing officer. Much more practice is still required before the battalion will be in its former military trim.

This year all the classes above the Kindergarten are to be given daily instruction in musical rhythm and voice exercise by Miss Berry, who has been in our service for many years. Miss Madeline Browne will be the accompanist. The classes have been found to improve at least twenty percent in their speech and in voice control after the first few months. There are but five manual classes in the school this year.

Various outdoor sports were the chief pastimes of Saturday. The usual base-ball game turned out a good contest. The senior and junior teams crossed bats.

Sunday church services were largely attended. Chapel services at the Institution were conducted by Professors Jones and Burdick.

The first meeting of the Fanwood Literary Association will be held next Saturday. The chief events will be the reading of the report of last year and the election of new officers to replace those lost by graduation.

The Misses Thomas and Rosenstein of the Lexington Avenue School for the Deaf were visitors Friday. They inspected the school work and witnessed voice culture exercises of the advanced grades around the piano.

The printing office has several neatly stacked piles of white print paper, aggregating four tons. It was purchased before the recent rise, which is caused by a shortage in paper that is likely to continue for a long time to come. The Annual Report and the JOURNAL are both provided for.

Mr. Howard W. Simpson, of the South Dakota School for the Deaf, called on the Principal last week. His father was a graduate of this school. Mr. Simpson proposes to make instruction in agriculture a special feature in his school.

Mr. Quincy McGuire, Principal of the Albany Home School, was a visitor last week.

DAYTON, O.

Clarence Cassady, of Columbus, came to Dayton to get work, where "Buck" Thurman has been continuing his job as ground-painter in the National Sign Co., and his wages are better than he got in a glass factory at Columbus.

Wm. H. Bond and "Buck" Thurman went to Cincinnati to give a talk to the colored deaf about the society, and four had joined it two weeks ago

The lecture of Rev. F. C. Smielau was splendidly given in Dayton, and all the deaf were very much interested. He thought the city is very beautiful. Since the flood of 1913, she city is fast building up.

The Deaf-Mutes who work in the National Cash Register are doing very well and pleased with their jobs, as they are particularly clean and neat.

"Buck" Thurman still plays foot-ball games with the Co. C. Army team. He has been in it for sixteen years, is now on the way to Columbus, Ohio, and will play against the University of Louisville, Ky, on the Thanksgiving day, playing left half back and right end.

The first annual meeting of the O. R. S. C. D. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Suddath last Labor Day. Luncheon was served before the meeting, which was opened with a prayer by President Bond. There were interesting discussions concerning the society, and several talks by the new members. One of these was a clearly illustrated talk by William P. Thurman, the loyal society leader. There are now sixteen members.

Wm. H. Bond and Wm P. Thurman, of Dayton, have been unanimously chosen President-Treasurer and Secretary, respectively.

Wm. Suddath, of Columbus, was elected Vice-President for one year, with Mrs. Jennie Bryan, of Cleveland, and Thurman, the Board of Trustees. It is devoutly hoped the O. R. S C. D will grow. If any colored deaf-mutes want to join the society, report to Wm. P. Thurman, Sec'y., 217 Markley St., Dayton, Ohio.

English Taught by Mail.

Language is Power and Influence Master it and become more efficient. It increases your opportunities and income, and gives you prestige, precedence and respectful hearing. Neglect it and you are imposed on, snubbed and ignored.

Therefore, enlarge your stock of words and phrases. They are the drawing instruments of thought, and the colors that give life to the moving pictures of the imagination.

Use the right word or phrase in the right place.

Learn how to write tactful, forceful letters.

Elicit admiration by your engaging conversation, and enter good society.

YOU CAN DO IT, or WE WILL SHOW YOU HOW.

Meaning of words and phrases explained and illustrated. Incorrect and twisted language expressions corrected, straightened out and GRAMMAR MADE EASY.

Do people often smile when you write or spell? Do you get tangled up in reading and writing? Do some words and phrases that you see a thousand times in print puzzle you, the word "expression," for instance?

Would you rather go ten miles to see a business man to secure a job, and then only to meet his office boy, than write him a two-page letter?

What do you know about colloquialisms? Are you satisfied to sport a diamond pin, a gold chain, and wear the latest styles of good clothes and yet betray your ignorance, or need of better education, by displaying your thoughts and feelings in poor, shabby language?

Or, are you ambitious to shine as a social leader, a correspondent, or as a user of idiomatic English, which is the badge of education, refinement and intellectuality?

Then send self addressed and stamped envelope, and communicate with
